The News.

The telegraph wires being out of order, yesterday, we have but a meagre report this morning.

From Toronto we learn that the Government has been defeated upon the Capitol removal question, the House annulling the decision of the home government to make Ottawa the capital of Canada.

The proceedings of the Ohio State Democratic Convention will be found in the telegraph report.

The New York market for Flour and Wheat, yesterday, was firmer. Our own market was unchanged. The weather was extremely sultry in the afternoon, with indications of more rain.

BANK DECISION.—We extract the following paragraph from the N. Y. Tribune: The Supreme Court of Buffalo has decided an interesting case for bank tellers: The tellers of the Butchers' and Drovers' Bank certified a check when the drawer had not a cent of money in said bank. The check came into the hands of the plaintiffs, for a valuable consideration, in due course of business; the bank refused to pay, they brought their action, and the Court held the bank liable on the law, settled for centuries, that the principal is liable for the acts of his agent, acting in the usual course of his employment.

AMERICA VS. ENGLAND.—The great race for the Goodwood Cup took place in England on the 27th inst. Mr. THE BROICK has Prioress and Charleston entered. It will be remembered that the former horse was badly beaten at the same race last year. The announcement of the result will be awaited with considerable interest by our American sportsmen.

ILLINOIS.—The Republican Convention of the Second Congressional District of Illinois, was held at Dixon on the 28th inst. HON. JOHN F. FARNSWORTH, the present able Representative from that District, was re-nominated.

A "SELL."—A popular actor of Philadelphia went to Cape May a few days since. He accidentally left his watch on his dressing table. A friend going to the Cape took it down. In conjunction with a few others, he got up a complimentary presentation. A presentation speech was made and the reply was gratefully eloquent. A feast followed after which, on going to his room, he opened the case, which enclosed the watch, and found it to be the one he left at home!

DUEL.—A duel took place at Vicksburg on the 22d inst., between Mr. Arder, editor of the True Southron, and Mr. Partridge, editor of the Whig. The weapons used were pistols, at ten paces, and Mr. Partridge was wounded on the first fire in the ankle.

PRIZE FIGHT.—Two men, named Cunningham and Cooley, went through a prize fight at New Orleans on the 14th. They fought for two hours and fourteen minutes—one hundred and forty-three rounds—Cunningham being the victor.

SALE OF A RAILROAD.—The Albany Journal states that the Canandaigua and Jefferson Rail Road, 47 miles in length, was sold on Friday for $200,000. It was bid in by Mr. Potter. There was but a single bid. The amount due (under the first mortgage) was $345,000. The second and third mortgages are, of course, swallowed up. The road is of the broad gauge.

THE TELEGRAPH CABLE.—The cost of the Atlantic Telegraph Cable is said to be about $600 a mile, at which rate the amount lost in mid-ocean would be about a quarter of a million of dollars.

KILLED.—Miss ENGLISH, the talented author of the "History of the Tudors," was recently run over in London by a cart, and died soon after.

HARVESTING THE CROPS.—The editor of the Albany Times, (Green County,) after making a tour through Green, Rock and Walworth counties, gives the following report of the condition of the crops in these counties:

We have taken some pains to enquire and examine as to the rust and blight in the wheat and other crops, and find more or less rust in both winter and spring wheat. We called on friend N. B. Royce, of Harmony, in Rock county, who is a practical farmer, and owns large and well cultivated fields, and he informed us that the barley crop in that vicinity seemed to be all affected, and some fields were not worth harvesting. In Johnstown we saw fields of barley damaged to such an extent that they were totally abandoned. The wheat crop is considerably blighted, but the later sowed wheat looks promising, and will no doubt yield abundantly. Harvesting has commenced, and good hands are easily obtained at $1,50 per day. Oats, corn and potatoes promise well. The largest corn we noticed during our trip was in Richmond, Walworth county—a field belonging to John Clark, and one to J. G. Humphrey. The fields were well cultivated, (which is a secret for raising good corn,) and the height attracted our attention, which led us to measure some of the stalks which we found to be nine feet ten inches, and we did not select but about an average of the field.

THE CROPS IN ROCK COUNTY.—The Janesville Gazette of yesterday says:

We make daily enquiries of farmers from the harvest field. Wheat will not be more than two-thirds of the usual crop, and may be less. Oats not over half a crop, and barley about the same. We have had three weeks of dry weather which will materially injure the potatoe crop.

STATE FAIRS.—The following State Fairs are to be held during 1858:

Missouri, at St. Louis, Sept. 6 to 10.
Alabama, at Montgomery, Oct. 18 to 22.
California, at Marysville, Aug. 23 to 28.
Connecticut, at Hartford, Oct. 12 to 15.
Illinois, at Centralia, Sept. 14 to 18.
Indiana, Indianapolis, Oct 4 to 9.
Iowa, at Oscaloosa, Sept. 28 to Oct. 1.
Kentucky, at Louisville, Sept. 27 to Oct. 1.
New Hampshire, at Dover, Oct. 6 to 8.
New Jersey, at Trenton, Sept. 15 to 17.
New York, at Syracuse, Oct. 5 to 8.
Ohio, at Sandusky, Sept. 14 to 17.
Rhode Island, at Providence, Sept. 15 to 18.
Vermont, at Burlington, Sept. 14 to 17.
Wisconsin, at Madison, Oct. 5 to 7.
United States, at Richmond, Va., Oct. 25 to 30.

THE HOUSE OF REFUGE.—Work on the House of Refuge goes on briskly. The south half of the first building will be up very soon. The first story above the basement is nearly up, and if you wish to see some stylish work, walk down and take a peep at the first story of the House of Refuge.—Waukesha Republican.

Deplorable Casualty---Three Young Men Drowned.

Yesterday afternoon about five o'clock, the sloop yachts Vaughaballa and Republic left our harbor for the purpose of a sail on the lake. On board the former vessel were George Clark, formerly of the firm of George Steele & Co.; W. R. Grafton, of the firm of Grafton & Hall, commission merchants; G. Wentworth Scott, produce broker. Harland Peck, clerk for Fabin & Co.; —— McMillan, brick-maker, and a young man named Palmer, recently from New York, whose father is a member in that city, and opposed to be of the firm of Palmer, Richardson & Co., all of them being young men, between the ages of 22 and 25.

The wind was blowing fresh from the land with an ugly chop sea. When they had proceeded about a mile from the breakwater, the Republic being ahead, the Vaughaballa undertook to pass her to the windward, but in a few moments was struck by a squall and capsized, and all those on board thrown into the water.

When those on board the Republic saw the accident, she was immediately brought about in order to go to the rescue, but being considerably to the leeward, and there being an ugly sea, it was full twenty minutes before she could reach the place of disaster. Clark, McMillan, and Grafton were picked up, the latter nearly exhausted, but Peck, Palmer and Scott, sunk to rise no more before they could be reached.—The boat was towed to the wharf by a tug, and immediate means were taken to recover the bodies, but up to a late hour last night they had not been successful. G. Wentworth Scott was from Montreal, Canada; Harland Peck, formerly from London, but more recently from Toronto, Canada, and young Palmer was from New York city, where his parents reside. They were all young men highly esteemed, and this sad accident will throw a shadow upon the hearts of many relatives and friends.

We hear it stated that the immediate cause of the accident was the shifting of the ballast in the yacht.

We are requested to state that $25 will be paid for the recovery of either of the bodies.—Chicago Press & Tribune of yesterday.

From the London Times, 13th.

The Awful Firework Explosion.

Yesterday afternoon several explosions took place at two firework factories, the result of which is that serious injuries were inflicted upon a great many persons.

The scene of the terrible casualty is the Westminister road, near the corner of the Waterloo road, and facing the newly erected district church of St. Paul's, Southwark. At the corner of Charles street and Elizabeth place stood the well known factory belonging to Madam Coton, the pyrotechnic artist to the Royal Gardens, Vauxhall, and at the opposite corner of the street was the building of Mr. Gibson, late Canon, also a well known firework maker. The present being the most busy part of the London and suburban seasons, both factories were more than usually occupied in preparing those dangerous projectiles, Madam Coton having received the contract for Vauxhall Gardens, had been since Monday week preparing an extra supply for that establishment; and last evening, about half past six o'clock, Madam Coton was in the building, but in what part does not appear quite clear; there was also a young woman and a little girl up stairs, and a boy about 13 years of age, named David Bray, in the tap-room in the front kitchen; the brother of this boy was in what is termed 'the colored fire department' in the back kitchen. All of a sudden the latter cried out "Oh, the red fire is alight!" and immediately rushed out of the building. The brother followed, but before he could get to the top of the stairs he became encircled in flames, and we regret to say that although he managed to get out of the building, he was fearfully if not fatally injured. He was at once removed to the surgery of Dr. Donahoe, No. 5 Westminister road, nearly facing, where that gentleman did that all that was possible that humanity or surgical skill could devise, and while he was attending to this sufferer, the flames reached the different rooms, which became ignited, when a terrible event occurred.

It ought, however, to be here stated that the Waterloo-road and Southwark-bridge road engines, together with the west of England office, has just arrived, and Lund, the turncock of the Lambeth Waterworks, had drawn a main supply for the engines; but there being another near the premises of Madame Coton, he was in the act of drawing the plug, when the whole building, except a portion of the external walls, was blown into the air, as well as across the full extent of the wide road, and at the same time rockets, catherine wheels and the more powerful description of fire works exploded, scattering everything used in the business in every direction, knocking down firemen, and it is said, one hundred men, women and children. The flames laid hold of Thomas Dunn, the turncock, burnt his hat of his head, and so severely injured him that it is feared he is mortally hurt. At the same instant, the rockets as they exploded, ball spent of their destructive contents, shot into the premises of Mr. Gibson, and the stock of fireworks in that place also became ignited, and before Mrs. Gibson had time to escape, she was fearfully burnt. For some minutes the firemen and police hardly knew what to do, for explosions continued to follow each other, until everything in each building of explosive character was totally destroyed.

Just before the first explosion took place, five or six persons were at the first-floor window of Madame Coton's premises, and while they were making an attempt to enter the combustibles exploded, and they were all blown to the ground. It is hardly necessary to say that they were all badly injured.

In less than half an hour after the outbreak, not fewer than 60 sufferers had been removed to Dr. Donahoe's surgery. Among the most serious cases, and one that demands special mention, was that of Mr. F. Bonhsm, a livery stable keeper, of No. 9 Obelisk yard, who ran to the front of the house and rescued a little girl, but had no sooner done so than a rocket struck him on the head, blew the child out of his arms, and they were both seriously injured. At the same time, Mr. Barnard of No. 5 Gibson street, Limbeth, was passing along the road in a light cart with four other persons, and so great was the force of the explosion, and so fierce was the shower of rockets and pieces of the roof, that they were all blown down in the cart, and Mr. Barnard much injured about the legs. Mr. Patterson, a licensed victualer, was surrounded by burning rockets, and his legs were in consequence much burnt.

From the London Times, 14th.

The accounts published yesterday convey but a faint idea of the mischief done to property, and the vast number of persons who were injured by this disastrous event. It is now reported that 300 persons were more or less hurt, and some, it is feared, will lose their lives, while it is certain that one poor creature has perished.

APPOINTMENT OF CIRCUIT JUDGE.—We learn that Gov. Randall has appointed David Noggle, Esq., of this city judge of the first judicial circuit, in place of Hon. John M. Keep, resigned. The appointment of Mr. Noggle is one which we think will be generally satisfactory to the people and the bar of the circuit. He is a lawyer of large experience, quite familiar with the routine of practice, of vigorous intellect, quick perception and possessing much decision of character. Mr. Noggle is an example of what industry, perseverance, temperate habits and a strong mind can accomplish, against adverse circumstances connected with life in the West during its first settlement. Mr. Noggle is emphatically a self-made man, and the example which he presents, of having attained to one of the highest position in the State by the unaided force of native energy and will, is alike honorable to himself and encouraging to young men struggling under like difficulties.—Janesville Gazette.

THE WHEAT CROP.—We have in our office a small sample of wheat, gathered by Mr. Hulbert, of the firm of Hulbert & Loomis, from 36 different wheat fields, promiscuously. The wheat before us is as good in appearance as any wheat of other seasons, not particularly selected to get the best.

Last week we gave a number of cases which we gathered from our exchanges, and which gave rather discouraging accounts of the wheat crops in different sections of the country, but we have since seen other accounts stating that in many cases the crops come in a good deal better than was expected before harvesting commenced. We hope the farmers will yet be rewarded for their toil by good crops, and prices to make up for the lack of quantity.—Columbus Journal.

RAREY'S CAREER BROUGHT TO AN END.—Mr. Rarey's career has unexpectedly been stopped He had cleared some £15,000 to £20,000 by his horse taming secret, when suddenly Routledge, the cheap publisher, got hold of a pamphlet published by the horse-tamers in America, and printed it. It contains in a small compass all the art of horse taming, and the subscribers, who had bound themselves not to divulge the secret under a penalty of £500, became furious, and Mr. Rarey had to release them from their pledge, in a letter to the Times.

A FATHER ARRESTED FOR ATTEMPTING TO SCARE HIS OWN CHILD TO DEATH.—A man named William Lally, residing on sixth street, below Baum, was yesterday brought before Judge Pomden, upon the charge of attempting to scare his own child to death! It appears that some two or three weeks since Lally married his second wife, and since that time the little child in question, which is only between two or three years of age, has been compelled to remain in the wood-shed, both day and night, with scarce food enough to sustain life. It had become fearfully emaciated, and presented an appearance calculated to excite the sympathies of the most indifferent. Some of the neighbors ascertained the fact that the child was confined in the shed, and finally insisted upon an investigation, when it was discovered that the previous rumors were indeed true. When they gave the child food it devoured it most ravenously, there by giving the lie to the assertion of the father that he had offered the child food, but that it would not eat it. The only excuse that Lally made for his inhuman conduct, when arrested, was, that the child was sick, and smelt so badly that it was very offensive to have it in the house! So he thrust the little thing into the wood-shed to starve. Dr. Walker who examined the child, stated that it was afflicted with no disease whatever, but was suffering from starvation only.

Judge Pruden advised that the new wife, under whose eye the inhuman treatment had been carried on, should also be proceeded against, and she was taken into custody by an officer. Both husband and wife were required to give bail in $500 each for their appearance for examination this morning, in default of which they were committed to jail. If the evidence upon the examination sustains the statements made by the neighbors, it is one of the worst cases of heartlessness and brutality which we have been called upon to record in a long time. The charge against the father and his wife is that of assault with intent to kill.—Cincinnati Gazette.

OUTFIT TO FRAZER RIVER.—In addition to the large number of Red River Half-Breed voyageurs now in this city, whose grotesque carts are to be seen constantly filing through the streets, the city is full of a more intelligent class of visitors from that district of country—traders and factors in the service of the Hudson Bay Co. These gentlemen are willing to give any information to parties contemplating and overland journey to Frazer river. According to the representations of these persons an outfit sufficient for all the purposes of the journey, would cost but a little. A gun and some ammunition are nearly all that are needed. The whole route is stocked plentifully with game; at this season grouse are abundant, and ducks are numerous in the lakes and rivers. When the Buffalo country is reached some of the choicest viands may be had with little trouble.

Several parties have been formed at considerable expense of preparation, in the different interior towns of this State, for the purpose of going over land to the gold mines of Frazer River. If the services of some half-breed voyageours could be secured to co-operate with any expedition of this sort, the expense of an outfit might be very much diminished, and the cumbersome minutiæ which only have the effect to impede progress, be dispensed with. The idea of taking barrels of pork, and flour, and molasses, and the Lord knows what else, on a route dense with game of every possible variety, is simply ridiculous. A good pack-horse or mule will carry the whole necessary outfit of three men—or, if they are men of the right stripe, five men.—St. Paul Pioneer & Democrat.

Ward Meetings To-Night.

The electors in the several Wards of the city of Milwaukee, irrespective of party politics, are requested to assemble at the usual place of holding elections, in their respective Wards, on Friday (to-day) at 7 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of nominating three persons in each Ward, to be voted for on Monday next, as Delegates to the City Convention.

The duties of the Delegates to be elected being solely confined to a revisal and codification of the City Charter, and in no way connected with party politics, it is therefore of the highest importance that intelligent and trustworthy men should be selected for the place, with a view to have such a charter presented for the ratification of the voters, as will be fully adapted to the wants and interests of the whole people.

MANY DEMOCRATS AND REPUBLICANS.

Milwaukee, July 30.

THE WISCONSIN'S LOGIC.—Upon reading the Wisconsin's eulogistic reports of Prof. HOPKINS' Slavery lectures, the editor of the Janesville Gazette concluded that our neighbor of the "family paper" had been converted and become a firm believer in the blessings of the "Southern Institution." The Wisconsin, however, didn't like to be considered an out and out Slavery advocate, and said that though it believed Mr. HOPKINS' logic, yet it was not quite a convert to its practical application. "A man," said the Wisconsin, "can logically prove almost anything, and yet it may not be true or desirable." To this the Gazette replies:

The Wisconsin is "not quite" converted to slavery. We are glad of it. We, however, do not accept its definition of logic. Webster says: "The purpose of logic is to direct the intellectual powers in the investigation of truth, and the communication of it, to others." The Wisconsin said that Mr. Hopkins demonstrated with admirable logical correctness that servitude is the great law of nature and of life. Logically, then, according to the Wisconsin, he has discovered the sentiment to be true, and with the aid of the Wisconsin, he seeks to communicate it to others. You cannot prove anything but the truth by logic, Mr. Wisconsin; and we utterly fail to see how abolition or any kind of rant is disposed of by a lecture which has no practical application. We think as a matter of fact, that the Wisconsin has no fixed principle on the subject of slavery, (or any other subject) and having fallen into pro-slavery company, it easily sympathizes with the prevailing sentiment of the meeting.

We added the words within the parenthesis above, as it was evident that their omission was an oversight on the part of the Gazette.

RAILROAD CELEBRATION TALKED OF.—The St. Paul people talk of getting up a grand celebration on the occasion of the completion of the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad to the Mississippi, in connection with the La Crosse people. The opening of this road will be a great event as well for our city as Minnesota and the whole north-west, and no doubt our city will cheerfully second any effort that may be made to celebrate the event. It is expected that the road will be open through to La Crosse by the 1st of September, and the occasion will not be an unfitting one for an excursion over the road and a grand jubilee.

THE EXCURSION.—The Madison Journal says that the Excursion Train brought in nine cars there, the locomotive and cars decorated with gaily waving flags. Three cars were switched off at Madison, quite a number of the passengers wishing to enjoy themselves a few hours there, and six well-filled cars went Westward.

NONSENSE.—A correspondent of the Wisconsin signing himself "Citizen," makes Alderman PHELPS' resolution relative to the High School, the pretext for an indiscriminate attack upon our city government, the chief characteristics of which is, evident ignorance on the part of the writer of the subject which he treats. "Citizen" starts off with the wonderful assertion that:

"The citizens of Milwaukee can now see the evil effects of the great reform. In their blind zeal to rid the city of the ramparts attached to the old Common Council, in which they succeeded, they placed in their stead, persons at once ignorant, and without one quality to fit them in the office. The only reform which they produced, moved in a retrograde order."

People who have any knowledge of the ingredients of which the old Council was composed, will only laugh at this nonsence. When our "City Fathers" do anything deserving of censure, we shall not defend them, but we dislike to see an attack without any provocation, "Citizen" next makes the startling announcement that—

Among the many foolish and oppressive laws which they have placed over the poor man, there is none which shows our City Fathers to be so utterly devoid of sense as the bill relating to the Milwaukee High School.

This bill, introduced by Mr. Phelps, is one emanating from a truly illiterate source, and it is an opprobium to the citizens of our city, that there are only two persons in the Common Council with sense and intelligence to stand up for education.

Astonishing! The Wisconsin's correspondent has not substantiated his position very well, and we are inclined to think that would be a difficult thing to do. He says that "among the many foolish and oppressive laws which they (the Common Council) have" placed over the poor man, there is none which shows our city Fathers to be so utterly devoid of sense as the bill relating to the High School."

We would simply say in relation to this that they have not "placed" this "law" "over the poor man's head" yet, nor is it likely to be placed there. The Common Council have not adopted it, and we have no idea that they will do so. Had Mr. "citizen" confined himself to Ald. PHELPS and those who favored his measure, we should have found no fault; but to attack the whole council for making a "law," which the principal board has not yet had an opportunity of voting upon, is a little too fast.

By what means "Citizen" arrives at the conclusion that there are only two members of the Common Council who, "stand up for education" we are at loss to know. Until the contrary is proved, we shall believe that the majority of the Common Council are firm friends of the cause of education in our city. Their course, thus far, warrants this belief at least. Beggard, as our city is, from the effects of former mismanagement, the present Council has exhibited a commendable liberality, in everything calculated to promote the advancement of public education, and the visible improvement in our Common Schools is evidence of this fact. But it is "wasting powder" to dwell further upon the subject. However to show how utterly ignorant "Citizen" is, of our city government and its regulations, we will quote one more passage from his "attack." He says:

The citizens of the Seventh Ward displayed their appreciation of a good school by the re-engagement of Mr. McKitrick at the payment of a salary which our mean and parsimonious Councilmen thought too extravagant to grant.

We were not aware that our Councilmen had anything to do with fixing the salaries of teachers. That is a duty which it is supposed usually devolves upon the School Commissioners. Before making another "attack," it would be well for "Citizen," to make himself acquainted with the A. B. C's, of our municipal regulations.

☞ PIC-NICS.—Surely these are the days of picnics. Scarcely a day passes that we do not see a procession of happy children marching after a band of music bearing their gay banners, to seek that enjoyment in some rural spot which far surpasses all city amusements. No less than three of these pleasant excursions were made yesterday to different places in or near the suburbs of the city. The Sabbath School children of the Plymouth Church went out to the farm of Mr. CARY in Omnibusses, ten of which they filled to a jam. A band of music preceeded them in an open wagon, and the boys displayed their banners on the tops of the Omnibusses.—No doubt they had a jovial time of it. The children of the Spring Street Methodist Church, marched to VLIET'S Grove, in the Ninth Ward, one of the most charming spots about the city, where they had their day's amusement. They also had music and banners and made a fine appearance. The children connected with St. Gall's Church (Catholic) had their pic nic out on the Watertown Plank Road, in a shady grove near the Old Race Course. They marched down East Water street in the evening, returning.—There was quite a string of them, all boys, and the little fellows looked as happy as innocence.

SEVENTH WARD SCHOOL.—We are informed that the carpets in the Seventh Ward School, were furnished by the pupils of that institution; also, that various ornaments, pictures, &c., were contributed by the principal, Mr. McKindley.—Free Democrat.

If this be true, Ald. Phelps and company will doubtless feel a little small over their movements to sell these ornaments.—Ed.

This we know to be a fact, and the silly crusade of Ald. PHELPS against the High School excites universal contempt. We are inclined to believe that the majority of the Board of Aldermen, voted for the measure without giving the subject sufficient consideration.

A WELL MERITED COMPLIMENT.—The Wisconsin of last evening pays a well deserved compliment to our respected and efficient Police Justice, CLINTON WALWORTH, Esq., which we take pleasure in endorsing:

A DILIGENT OFFICER.—Police Justice WALWORTH, in this city, is without example, we dare say, in the diligent manner in which he confines himself to the duties of his office. For almost eleven years, he has not been absent from his Court over one day, except on account of sickness, and he has not been absent over four days on any account, in all that time. The one day that he was absent for another reason than sickness, was when he was subpœnaed to go to Janesville, on a case in the Circuit Court. For the past five years, he has not been absent a single day, but day after day, rain or shine, he has always occupied his seat on the bench, and disposed of the cases that came up before him, with an ability and an impartiality, which have rendered him universally popular with the more orderly portion of our community. Where is there another Police Justice, or public officer of any kind, who can present as favorable a record as Chancellor WALWORTH? The Chancellor says he has not been out of the State within the past twenty years.

☞ SAM BROWN, late Superintendent of the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana Railroad, died, after a lingering illness, at his residence in Adrian, Mich., on Wednesday last. All the Railroad offices in Chicago, were draped in mourning yesterday, in respect to his memory.

SENT TO JAIL.—JULIUS HERMAN, the boy whom we spoke of yesterday, as having been arrested for stealing wool from the warehouse of Messrs. NICHOLS, BEITT & Co, was sentenced by Judge Walworth to three months imprisonment in the county jail.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—During the heavy storm Wednesday evening, between nine and ten o'clock, a house on an alley, south of Wells St., between Third and Fourth streets, was struck by lightning, and the roof demolished. A woman in the house was slightly injured.

COMMISSIONER FOR MINNESOTA AND IOWA.—J. S. FILLMORE has been appointed Commissioner for these States and will transact any business connected with the office.

About Grain Warehouses.

MILWAUKEE, July 29, 1858.

EDITORS SENTINEL:—One would be led to infer from the manner of the Janesville Gazette's talking on in regard to there being but one large warehouse on the M. & M. R. R. track in this city, for the purpose of handling grain in bulk, that there was on the track of the Chicago, St. Paul & Fond du Lac R. R. at Chicago, a half dozen or more warehouse, whereas there is but one grain warehouse, and that an ordinary one, on the track of said road in Chicago, to which the Janesville dealers can send their grain in bulk. Choice lots of extra wheat, will, no doubt, continue to be sent in bags to the Milwaukee market, after the mammoth warehouse is ready for the reception of grain in bulk; but as Janesville has so very little of a good quality of wheat, such as it would be desirable to have sent in bags, it is not to be wondered at, that Janesville grain dealers should be very sensitive in regard to the bagging of grain. The Janesville Gazette, if it does not wish to be laughed at for its want of information in regard to the grain business, ought either to be posted or dry up

EXTRA CLUB.

GOING AHEAD RAPIDLY.—Mr. CORDES is fairly rushing matters with his new block on Detroit street. The rubbish has been cleared away where the old building fell, a part of the block cornering on Water street has been demolished to enable the new block to be made much larger than the old one, and the material is on the ground. A large number of extra piles will be driven, and the foundation for the new block will be as secure as any in the city. When completed, the block will be an ornament to the city.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.—The steamer Ontonagon, Capt. WILKINS, leaves Dousman's Dock for the above port this morning at 8 o'clock. This is becoming a favorite route for Eastern travel, on account of the cheapness of the fare, and the beauty and variety of the scenery on the route. For passage apply to L. D. JEROME, Huron street.

SCHOOL LANDS.—J. S. FILLMORE has 10,000 acres School Lands for sale or exchange for other property.

A CAMERA OBSCURA, from Paris, is now fixed upon top of the Republican House, on the west side of the river, and open to visitors. It gives a life-like picture of Milwaukee, and is well worth seeing. E. WEISNER offers it for sale.—It would be a a good purchase for an enterprising man. jy27b14d1w.

FROSTED HANDS AND FEET.—More than twenty have come in and said that "Prof. De Grath's Electric Oil" has cured them in one day—taken away all soreness. Ask James Carey, corner of Race and Twenty-second streets. He was getting out ice, and froze his hands badly. Come and see twenty certificates at the office like this: "No 251 Locust street, Jan. 12.—Prof. De Grath's "Electric Oil," 30 South Eighth street, has cured my frosted feet in one night—and it is the best article ever used for this purpose. CLIFFORD S. WHITE." There is no mistake—this Oil cures, and it takes but a little to do it. Beware of imposition.

Inter-Continental Telegraph.

Two weeks will have elapsed to-morrow, since the Atlantic Telegraph Fleet left Queenstown, to make a third attempt to lay the cable, the result of which will be anxiously looked for by the whole civilized world. We confess never to have entertained very sanguine hopes of the success of the great enterprise. The recent failure, however, has not convinced us of the entire impracticability of the undertaking, and indeed we are now more hopeful of it's success than ever before. A piece of the cable is before us, and to our mind, it appears, and always has appeared impossible that its diminutive proportions should be capable of bearing the great weight which it must needs support in being laid. But this it has been clearly demonstrated is an erroneous impression, and if the cable were properly paid out, there is no apparent difficulty in laying it across the ocean. As a test of the strength of the cable, for instance, it is stated in the official report of the accident, that after the communication had ceased between the two vessels, the Niagara remained anchored by it for nearly two hours, notwithstanding that the depth of the water was over 1,600 fathoms, and the wind was quite fresh at the time. Most of the accidents thus far have been traced to some mis-arrangement, or fault on board either of the vessels, and although the last accident is not very satisfactorily explained, a close examination would probably trace its cause to the same source. A circumstance which convinces us more than anything else in this belief, is the fact, that the officers of the Agamemnon, the vessel close to which the cable parted, expressed no doubt of the success of a third trial, and as there is "luck in odd numbers," and a universal belief that the third trial is the crisis of all hazardous undertakings, let us hope that the present case will not prove an exception to the old proverb.

We shall not be greatly disappointed, however, no more, than the "rest of mankind," we trow, should the announcement of another failure soon reach us. Should this attempt fail, the effort will not have been unproductive of good. We have no sympathy with those "old fogies" who scoff at the undertaking. Enough has already been ascertained, to demonstrate the fact that the originators of the enterprise had some ground for expecting it to succeed. The effort too has also aroused the public mind to the great importance of an inter-continental communication by telegraph, and if the present attempt to lay the Atlantic cable proves an entire failure, it is no reason to give up the hope of being able to connect the two continents during the present age. We perceive that the New York Tribune calls attention to the fact that there is another line which can still be constructed, and put in operation which will possess many advantages over that which Mr. FIELD and his associates are now endeavoring to lay,—the line by the way of Washington Territory, the Russian province of Sitka, the remarkable series of islands, which at narrow intervals stretch across the north Pacific, the Russian possessions on the river Amoor, and Liberia, to Moscow, which city is already in connection with all parts of the European Continent, and with England.

The Tribune thinks that "Starting from the north-west corner of Washington Territory, the wire might run to Sitka, either along the coast or by the way of Vancouver's Island, as may be the more practicable; thence through Russian America to the Atlantic Islands, which form a bridge, as it were, between the two continents. From the southern part of Kamtschatka, the Kurile Islands form another bridge to the islands in the sea of Japan. Crossing Saghalien and the narrow strait to the westward, the wire might run to the great elbow formed by the River Amoor, and, ascending that river, follow one of its main branches to the centre of Siberia, and finally terminate at Moscow. The whole distance from Portland, Oregon, to Moscow by this route is less than 10,000 miles. In no place will the wire require to be submerged for more than two hundred miles in one stretch. This would also enlist the active co-operation of Russia, and, with the proposed line between the Pacific and the Mississippi, would put all parts of the United States into immediate communication with two continents instead of one. The line would be cheaper to construct than an ocean telegraph can be; would be entirely accessable in case it was broken or gets out of order, and might be easily protected by the troops now at the American or Russian Government posts, until civilization shall reach and follow up its track, as it is sure to do before many years, as it is now doing on Frazer River, by the mouth of which the wire would run."

The Journal of Commerce, we notice, suggests the practicability of having a line pass through Northern Asia, crossing at Behring's Straits, which are only 39 miles wide, but the route pointed out by the Tribune is evidently preferable, being several hundred miles further south, and the danger from the floating ice and currents less, besides, the climate being milder.—The Tribune is of the opinion that it would take less time to put this line in operation than has already been consumed upon the Atlantic Telegraph, and that this line will be built whether the Ocean Telegraph succeeds or not, it has but little doubt. These suggestions are evidently feasible, and we are far from abandoning the hope of having ere long a telegraphic connection with the Old World.

THE CROPS IN COLUMBIA COUNTY.—From the best information we can obtain from various parts of this county, we should say that the wheat crop will not be much more than one-half as good as it was last year. On the high prairie and in the heavy openings it is pretty fair—on the low prairie it is badly injured by the rust; and on the lighter soils the drouth has pinched all crops. Oats will generally be better than wheat. Corn looks very well on the prairie.—Portage Record, 28th.

FOREIGN ADVENTURERS AND OUR "FIRST SOCIETY."—In a recent article on the De Riviere "romance," the New York Tribune, with its accustomed ability, takes occasion to remark, that the career of this French swindler must deepen the impression prevalent in Europe that we are semi-barbarians. There is no country in Europe where so transparent a vagabond, without even a face to recommend him, could have been enabled even to speak with such a young lady as Miss Blount. He could no more have obtained access to a gentleman's family circle in London or Paris than he could have singly have taken Gibraltar. Such "dukes" may possibly strut their brief hours in some very rude hamlet or low suburban cabaret, but they have never the audacity even to meditate admission into a gentleman's household. And the European rule is safer and more rational than ours. "Who is this person? What is his standing at home?—On what endorsement does he come to us? Who guarantees his personal respectability?"—Such are the questions instinctively asked whenever one of these blazing comets makes its appearance on the verge of society. It is not poverty, as the vulgar and the vicious pretend, against which the doors of hospitable mansion are barred; for men are welcomed and prized in the most aristocratic circles who are known to be not worth a dime; but swindlers and vagabonds are excluded, as they should be. By-and-by our people will see the propriety of adopting the same rule—or rather, the thousands of our reputable people who now disregard will be compelled to observe it.

But in the matter of encouraging the attentions of dubious foreigners, with reference to matrimony, our people are prematurely lax. If we were to suppose this Riviere case but one of a thousand, we know that there are many less glaring in which intimacies have been unwisely permitted, and even encouraged, which have had far more disastrous results. There is not a city, there is scarcely a township, which does not number among its inhabitants women who have married on very short acquaintance, only to be abused, deserted, and left a burden and a lifelong sorrow to their families in which they were born and reared, and which they most imprudently and improperly deserted, to share the fortunes of relative strangers. If young ladies could realize how grossly indelicate as well as culpably reckless such marriages appear in the eyes of the observing, they surely would forbear. A year's thorough acquaintance, with the most circumstantial accounts, from disinterested and reliable witnesses, of the antecedents from childhood, are the very least guaranties which any woman who realizes what marriage is, will require of a stranger. Even then, if her parents are not fully satisfied, as well as herself, she should still hesitate. Marriage is an undertaking in which no delay can be so hazardous as undue precipitation.

DEVIL'S LAKE NEAR BARABOO.—This wild sheet of water, according to the Kilbourn City Mirror, is 2¼ miles south of Baraboo, is about a mile and a half long and three quarters of a mile wide; almost entirely surrounded by hills or mountains, some four to five hundred feet high. It is said to be a lovely spot, and the water in the lake is as clear and pure that the bottom may be seen at the depth of 20 feet. A better name is proposed for it, and the Baraboo Republic suggests the name of Spirit Lake. The Mirror would prefer the name of Wild Beauty Lake.

DESTRUCTIVE STORM AT LEAVENWORTH.—BRIDGES AND HOUSES WASHED AWAY.—A severe rain storm visited the vicinity of Leavenworth City on the 16th inst., and did much damage. The Journal of the 16th, says:

The bridges over Three Mile Creek, on Main and Fifth streets, were carried away completely. The large bridge on Broadway was partly destroyed. Houses, wagons and bridges were carried from near Cincinnati and Latta's addition down to this bridge, where they formed a regular dam.

Two houses were washed down on Broadway from Latta's addition. One contained a man and his wife and child. As the house was floating down Broadway, it struck a stump, and parted right in the middle, leaving the family at the mercy of the waters. A couple of Irishmen named Kilby and Kallahan, seeing the danger of the family, by the aid of the lightning, went to their rescue, and succeeded in getting out the woman and child. They then went back after the man, and found him inaccessible, but finally brought him out by the assistance of a rope.

Sargents lost 50,000 brick, a large quantity of lumber, wheelbarrows and moulds. Rankin's brickyard was swept clear, 30,000 brick being destroyed, together with some fifty dollars worth of working material. Mitchell & Tully lost some 40,000 brick and forty dollars worth of other things. John Cozen's grocery store, corner of Cherokee and Broadway streets, was partially carried away. In Cincinnati, two empty houses were washed to the distance of some two hundred yards. All along Three Mile Creek the flood swept everything within its reach. The large culvert on Shawnee and Fourth streets was completely destroyed. The loss to the city will reach some $1,500 or $2,600.

STEAM CANAL NAVIGATION.—The success of the Charles Mack has placed the navigation of the canal upon a new basis. Henceforward steam instead of "old horse" is the motive power, and a new era in freighting is inaugurated. Our neighbor over the way, states that Mr. E. S. Prosser is ready to contract for twelve boats like the Mack, as soon as obstructions to navigation, in the way of low bridges, are removed. The railroad bridges are those most complained of, but with what degree of justice we do not know. According to the decision of the Canal Commissioners, we understand, no bridges can be erected at a less height than sixteen feet above the water, but the resolution probably did not refer to those already existing. Certainly let no detriment remain, or be thrown in the way of successful navigation of the canal with steam. We think the importance of the invention incalculably valuable to the State at large.—Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

A NEW RAILROAD BRIDGE ACROSS THE MISSISSIPPI.—We learn that the directors of the Galena Railroad, at their meeting on Thursday, decided to commence the construction of the Fulton Bridge, to connect their road with the two Railroads from Clinton and Lyons, in Iowa, as soon as the stockholders voted to approve of the same. The bridge is estimated to cost three hundred thousand dollars, and with the expense of management and repairs the rental of the Galena Company will be about thirty thousand dollars per annum.—St. Louis News.

THE WHEAT CROP IN GREEN COUNTY.—The Monroe Sentinel of Wednesday says:

From what we can gather from the farmers, we are led to believe that we have over-estimated the condition of the wheat crop in this county. There is a larger breadth sown than last year, but the yield to the acre will be but little more than one-half that of last year.

A Favorable Notice of Chicago.

From the Toronto Globe.

Our sister city, Chicago, does not appear to make a very favorable impression on the mass of travelers who visit it. We append a letter from the Cleveland Review, embracing an eastern man's views of the "city of mud," and we find many such floating through our exchanges:

CHICAGO AS I FIND IT.—The Empire of all the Chicago's makes a very characteristic impression upon travelers, and if I were to take the two first words that suggest a fair description of this Western mart of bankrupts and adventurers, I should write it down dirty and promiscuous! Situated as it is at the headwaters of Lake Michigan, and at the mouth of the "Chicago," which is the Indian name for "Skunk" river, the town has "spread itself" over an original swamp, rising at various grades, until in numbers and elevation it has reached an importance that entitles it to be ranked among, if not at the head of the fastest cities of the age. I have very little to say of its physical features, for the reason that there is nothing which an honest man can say in its praise. It has the worst streets and most intolerable city government that ever cursed the headway of a pedestrian or a creditor. It has fewer of the best, and more of the worst buildings, than any of the boastful hundred thousand braggadocios, who ever supposed themselves to be destined to rival all Atlantic cities, and to become the great commercial center of the North American Continent. I propose to give a few individualities as I find them, speaking from the records and the facts.

Out of Paris, during a revolution, there cannot be found a more mercurial race of beings, with blunter moral, or "charged" financial perceptions, than these same Chicagoians. Every other building is a broker's bank or real estate office, and a majority of those intervening are commission rooms or liger boer shops. The appearance of the buildings is as various as their occupants, which includes all nations "and the rest of mankind." Architecturally speaking, I should sum up both as of the "mixed order" and the application is equally good in politics, a white man being regarded just as good as a negro, if he owns as many "corner lots." If they were paying anything here just now, or in the fair way to, I should say that about every real estate man is mortgaged for five times what he can pay. As a general item upon this point, I will state, upon the authority of a friend who saw the records, that the assessed valuation of the taxable property of Chicago, last Spring, was about $3,-000,000, while the amount recorded upon bond and mortgage, which it was pledged to secure, was over one hundred and nine millions of dollars! Comment is unnecessary to explain the present total bankruptcy of this inflated town. Among the older inhabitants, there are few men of means; but the city belongs to Eastern capitalists, who hold it on bond and mortgage securities, and who would not, in the aggregate, realize thirty cents on a dollar, if they sold out the town to-morrow.

Rents have fallen fifty-per cent. in the most desirable localities, and "To Rent" stares you in the face at every turn, placarded on the best and worst of buildings. "Hard times" has begun its reign in Chicago, and the folly that affects to not recognize this fact, is too pitiable. The question arises, when are they to be better?—To man of little means, and the laborer, who, from his last year's or former earnings, meets his payments for a lot of land this Spring, asks himself, as he wonders about without being able to get employment in the present, where his next year's payment is to come from. Where is the most now, as made by their press one year ago, that "near three thousand buildings were in progress of erection" within the city limits.—What has become of the shipping and freighting by lakes and railroads? The railroads are not doing above forty per cent. of last year's business, and the proprietors of lake lines are known to be carrying at just about what it costs to load and unload their cargoes.

* * * * * * *

But Chicago will sooner or later atone for her sins, and that they may not be "deep as scarlet," I sincerely hope. Some things amuse me here, and not the least those "bridges" which are always open when you want them shut. In regard to those villainous "Tugs," which travel the river, I noticed an improvement—they let down their smokestacks when passing under the bridges; and you ought to see one of the Chicago's belles, who happens to be caught in full dress, where its suffocating smoke blackens the very sky with its foul vapors—what a sight afterwards! I had on a white coat when I entered the ordeal, and on coming out, its original color could not be imagined.

The recent improvements in sidewalks have entirely superseded gymnasiums—up stairs, down stairs, climb over, dodge under, down inclined planes, over piles of rubbish into the street, around the street, under the street, up to your knees in the street, now eight or ten below the carriage way, then upon level with the second stories, and all this occurring upon almost every block of the city, in its recent "high grade improvements," will give you some idea of the perils to which a traveler is subject in this fast city. A city in which you can travel farther without getting ahead, than will ever be believed until you have dislocated nearly broken your neck in the experiment. I was curious to know how "hoops and dimity" could navigate so uneven a "sea of troubles," and was told that the ladies did most of their promenading in one horse buggies—driving and playing euchre being regarded two of their chief accomplishments. When you go into the original parts of the town, the same stagnant ditches and villainous stenches that have festered for years, greet your senses. The frogs look a little more sullen, and the army of rats who encamp beneath the sidewalks, are more abundant. I have no time to give further the individualities of this commercial capitol of "suckerdom"—from which the man is reported to have gone to Heaven, (in a dream, or in a horn,") and was permitted to return and inform his friends that they knew of no such place as Chicago, and was told that "he was the first man that ever came from there."

Richmond House, Chicago, July 23, 1858.

Correspondence of the Journal of Commerce.

The American View of the Frazer Mines Difficulty—Our Government Powerless.

WASHINGTON, July 23.

Gov. Stevens, of Washington Territory, yesterday presented to the Secretary of State, in writing, a protest and argument against the assumption by Gov. Douglas of Vancouver's Island of powers to monopolize commerce in provisions, &c., and to impose a tax of twenty-one shillings a month, or any tax at all, upon immigrants from any quarter, for the privilege of residence. Some time in May last, Gov. Stevens, anticipating the difficulty, had directed the attention of the Government to it.

Gov. Stevens alleges that there is no positive law under which the Hudson Bay Company can prevent Americans from importing into the British territory provisions of any kind, and selling them there. He contends that the charter of the Co. gives them no monopoly except that of trade with Indians.

The President had yesterday come to a different conclusion on the question, and informed citizens of California that this Government was powerless to afford any address in the case.

He said the powers exercised by Gov. Douglas, as Factor for the Hudson Bay Co., whether legal or not, had been recognized as legal by the British Government.

This would seem to put an end to the question. But Californians low here have given information to the Government that there is imminent danger of a collision between their people and the British authorities. This will the more probably occur, if adventurers from the United States should be made to believe that Governor Douglas's acts are arbitrary and illegal.

It appears to me to be proper and necessary for the President to despatch a special agent to Vancouver's Island, Frazer River, and to confer with Gov. Douglas on the subject, and also to persuade our own people that they must submit quietly to the British authorities, hoping for the establishment of reciprocal commercial relations between the United States and the British territory, after the expiration of the Hudson Bay Co's charter next May.

A FLYING MACHINE.—Lord Callinford, who has been for a number of years engaged in constructing a flying machine, has announced the success of his undertaking in a letter to the Kilkenny Moderator, in which he says:

"Although I have not yet taken flight in the achreden—which name I have given to my aerial chariot—I may with confidence and truth announce to you and the world the success of its principle, from the results I obtained from an experiment three days ago. Having made some little improvements in the plan of starting the achreden, which consisted in applying a cork to the top of it, and then hooking it to a cord supported between two poles, in the manner of a swing, and having raised it about two feet from the ground, and then drawing it back about two yards and giving it a slight pull forward, it started off, then elevated itself in the air, and after going a short distance, alighted in the most gentle manner. It acted in this way in consequence of the tail not having been fastened down. By this experiment it must be considered that the principle is fully established, as well as the perfect manner of starting it. When I have made a few more experiments, and found out the weight the present extent of wing will be able to bear, and if found sufficient to bear a person without being put to any great speed, which I consider most likely to be the case, it shall be taken to Dublin without delay, and there exhibited for charitable purposes, and to the criticism of all."

THE PROPRIETORS,

Well aware of the impression existing, that a Store must be on East Water street to secure general trade, (as an offset) pledge to the public, that the Interest of Buyer, or Seller,

will be promoted by this change. With double the capacity of store room, and one half the amount of rent, we feel willing to test the question.

NO PERSON IN THE CITY

or parties that may visit it for the purchase of Furniture, should fail to examine

OUR MAMMOTH STOCK,

before making their purchases.

To the Public at Large.

We are prepared to prove every assertion we have made, that Furniture of every grade, from the kit-hen to the parlor, will be furnished from our Establishment, at prices lower than any house in the city.

THE REASON WHY,

will be shown at our Sales Rooms.

CODFREY'S

EXTRACT OF ELDER FLOWERS

For softening the Skin and improving the Complexion.

EUGENE DUPUY, 609 BROADWAY, N.Y.

Sole Agent for the United States.

THE object of this Circular is to give publicity to the most valuable and efficient Remedy that has yet been introduced in the practice of Medicine, for the purpose of preserving the delightful appearance from the ravages of time, and preserving to it to the latest period of life nearly all the firmness and freshness of youth. Extensive experience and minute investigation of its virtues have satisfied the Proprietor that if applied as directed it will speedily remove any unsightly appearance, such as Tan, Sun-Burn, Freckles, &c., and quickly cure Pimples, Humors and Eruptions which may disfigure the countenance; and will also impart to the Skin the most delightful softness and delicate clearness; in short, to preserve a pleasing complexion through life, nothing is required but the use of occasionally a Extract of Elder Flowers, the sweetest and really the most perfect beautifier in Nature. This admirable preparation of Elder Flowers is very fragrant as a perfume. Elder Flowers have from the earliest ages been esteemed as mild and harmless, yet most perfect beautifier of the Skin. Tan, Sun-burn, Freckles, Redness, &c., it will speedily and completely remove.

COMPLEXION.—It is singularly beneficial and perfectly inoffensive, even to the youngest infant.

SHAVING.—It is valuable beyond anything, annihilating every pimple, and all roughness, rendering the skin soft and firm, preparing for no completely for the razor.

FAMILY LOTION.—Godfrey's Extract of Elder Flowers will be found beyond all praise, and needs only a trial to be approved.

AGENTS.—Gary, Howard & Sanger, New York; Schieffelin Bros. & Co., New York; J. W. Norcross & Co., Boston and New York; F. D. Weis & Co., New York. And all other Wholesale and Retail Druggists.

EYE AND EAR INFIRMARY!

MEIGS CASE, M. D.,

OPERATOR UPON THE EYE & EAR.

LECTURES ON THE EYE.

A FEW WORDS in their place may not be inappropriate in regard to ophthalmic medicine and surgery, both on account of the great prevalence of ophthalmic diseases in the United States, and the general misapprehension as regards their nature and treatment by the world at large, and (I am free to confess) by the medical profession generally.

The idea which is entertained by so many, that a routine treatment consisting of some certain eye water or ointment "is good for sore eyes;" thus making no distinction between the infinite varieties of ophthalmic diseases.

For the information of such persons it perhaps would be well to state that over 275 different affections of the eye and its appendages are enumerated in books devoted to the subject, all totally diverse and different in their nature, and requiring different measures for their alleviation or cure.

As to the importance of the subject it will be hardly necessary to enlarge upon a question which takes the form of a self evident fact.

Every one feels that sight is the most valuable of the senses, that, in fact, the most important inlet of knowledge, the most valuable means of communication with surrounding persons and objects, and that it is also essential to the full enjoyment of our other senses, so that these lose more than half their value when sight is gone.

Hence blindness is one of the greatest calamities that can befall human nature short of death, and some perhaps would prefer the termination of existence to its continuance in the solitary and dependant state to which life is reduced by the privation of this precious sense.

Loss of sight is the greatest misfortune even to the rich who can alleviate it by consulting the aid and service of others. How much more severely must it be felt by the poor, by the middle and lower classes of society, that is by the great majority of mankind, who having neither leisure or means to indulge in labor and having their minds uncultivated, find their existance reduced to a dreary, blank, dark, solitary and cheerless, burdensome to themselves and those around them.

Even the great Milton, who might have been supposed to have found every alleviation and resource that such an affliction admits of in his highly gifted mind and the exhaustless stores of knowledge with which it was forever recreated, in the midst of labor and leisure, and always in a tone of anguish and dependency, characteristic of recent misfortune.

"Thus, with the year,
Seasons return; but not to me returns
Day, or the sweet approach of ev'n or morn,
Or sight of vernal bloom, or summer's rose,
Or flocks, or herds, or human face divine;
But cloud, instead, and ever during dark
Surround me. From the cheerful ways of men
Cut off, and for the book of knowledge fair,
Presented with a universal blank,
Of Nature's works to me expung'd and rased
And Wisdom at one entrance quite shut out."

These low prices will continue for Thirty Days. jy10

THE LIGHT AT HOME.

The light at home! how bright it beams,
When evening shades around us fall.
And from the battle far it gleams,
To love, and rest, and comfort all;
When wearied with the toils of day,
And strife for glory, gold or fame,
How sweet to seek the quiet way,
Where loving lips will bless your name,
Around the light at home!

When through the dark and stormy night,
The wayward wanderer homeward flies,
How cheering is that twinkling light,
Which through the forest gloom he spies!
It is the light of home. He feels
That loving hearts will greet him there,
And safely through his bosom steals
The joy and love that banish care.
Around the light at home.

The light at home! how still and sweet
It peeps fro n yond r cottage door —
The weary laborer to greet —
When the rough toils of day are o'er!
Sad is the soul that does not know
The blessings that the beams impart,
The cheerful hopes and j ys that flow,
And lighten up the heaviest heart
Around the light at home.

Tobacco.

So nauseous is even the taste of tobacco that, in all the animal kingdom, but two animals, aside from man, have been discovered which will taste it. The tobacco worm of the South, whose intolerable visage is disgusting, and the rock goat of Africa. The goat is thought by one writer to possess a bodily flavor which prepares it for association with those who create on themselves the tobacco stench. The smell of this goat is so terrible that no other dumb animal will ever associate with it. The very atmosphere for a distance around is tainted with his effluvia; his whole visage is said to be disgusting. The tobacco user is said to become so pickled with tobacco, that cannibals detect it in the flesh of those who have used it, and throw that flesh away as unfit to use. It is immaterial how tobacco is used, whether it be by smoking, chewing, snuffing or dipping, the effects are similar. As the reader may not understand what is meant by the latter practice, I will explain it. Some years ago, while sojourning in a Southern State, I frequently noticed ladies with one end of a small stick in their mouth; a lady one day asked me if I thought dipping injured the teeth; dipping, said I, what do you mean by dipping? She laughed heartily at my ignorance, but very graciously went on to explain the mystery of the small stick, which she exhibited to me. The stick, about as large as a small pipe stem, is split or broomed up at one end, this is dipped into a box of snuff, which is then rubbed against the teeth and held in the mouth. I must confess that I was so ungallant as to tell the lady, that I thought if the practice was not very injurious to the teeth, it was at least very filthy.

When tobacco is brought, by any of these methods, in contact with the living structures of the body, the poisonous juice is absorbed, enters the circulation, and passes throughout the whole system, even to the delicate structures of the brain and nervous system. It excites directly the various animal propensities beyond their proper balance, and tends to debase the moral character, and to make man more animal, and less intellectual and moral. It therefore tends to destroy both body and soul. But I fancy I hear some of you say, my father used tobacco for many years; and died an old man, if tobacco killed him it was a very slow poison; let me say to you young men, that if you were born after your father commenced using tobacco as freely as most young men use it to-day, for that very reason, if not for others, you do not possess your father's strength of constitution, but have to suffer for the folly of your parent, and you cannot follow his footsteps without going to a premature grave. Nor can you say how much this habit blunted the perceptions of your father in his declining years, clouded his intellect, impaired his health, and shortened his life. The crown upon the head of the old man should be wisdom, and the chief pearl, innocence, and in the innocence of wisdom should he go to his father, free from pain and disease. I am aware that some men of strong constitutions, active life and otherwise of good habits, may use alcohol or tobacco and even get drunk often, and yet live to a good old age; but they are the exceptions to the general rule; a much greater number will die young.

But it will be found that most of those who have lived to old age, did not commence the use of these poisons very young, or else that they either used them moderately, or only occasionally had a spree, and were never what we call hard drinkers or smokers. Whatever impairs the physical energies of individuals impairs the energies of our race as a whole, and no man has a right to entail, through his own folly, a tendency to disease, suffering and premature death to his children. Tobacco is not natural food for man; it will not sustain life; that it is a poison, has abundantly been shown—always injurious during health, and never necessary, except in rare cases of disease, and then only for a temporary period. Its use is a bad example to the young, even to innocent children, leading them astray; it is expensive, costing the inhabitants of the United States more than $25,000,000 annually; and even the professed Christians of our country more than $5,000,000. Its use is a direct violation of the Divine command—thou shalt not kill—which includes self-murder, it matters not whether it be done in an hour or more slowly,—the work of years,—therefore more deliberately. I ask you who profess to be Christians or philanthropists, how you can neglect to abstain from this fleshy lust, which not only wars against the soul, but also the body? How can you spend four times as much to gratify this perverted appetite, as you pay to send the Bible and missionaries, to those whom you acknowledge it to be your duty to feed with the bread of life? Is it not plain that the habitual use of tobacco is a sin against our physical organizations and against our Father in heaven? and that those who are addicted to this habit must shun it as such or the love for this poison will abide with them.

It matters not that good men and even Christians may have used it before our day, or drank brandy, and occasionally, perchance, got drunk; they did it ignorantly and did not violate conscience. But even with them, perhaps, a certain elderly lady's dream, which is recorded in the spirited work of Dr. Coles, to which I have referred, may have been found more than a dream. She is said to have been very pious, "but allowed for many years her devotion to her pipe, like thousands in our churches, to exceed her devotions to her God. She was more sure not to forget her vows to this carnal appetite, than not to forget her closet for prayer. One night she dreamed of an aerial flight to the region of the spirit world, where not only her eyes could feast on the beauties of elysian fields, but where she could converse with perfected spirits. One of these she asked to go and look for her name in the book of life. He complied; but at length returned with a sad countenance, saying it was not there. Again she besought him to go and search more thoroughly. After a more lengthy examination he returned without finding it. She wept bitterly. But she could not rest till a third search should be made. After a long and anxious absence, he returned with a brightened countenance, saying it had, after great labor, been discovered; but that so deep was the covering which years of tobacco smoke had laid over it, that it was with great difficulty that it could be discovered. She awoke and found herself prostrated with weeping. She cast her idol to her feet, and gave unto God not a divided but a whole heart; and she no more spent her time, money and vital energies upon its unholy altar."

Our Heavenly Father hath given unto us reason to guide our footsteps here below, and if He does not mean us to be guided by our understanding in our eating and drinking, what mean those denunciations against drunkenness and gluttony, to be found in His word? I will ask the believers in a divine revelation if a man is not certainly either a drunkard or a glutton in the bible acceptation of these terms when he deliberately uses a poisonous substance, knowing it to be injurious and destructive to health and life, and entirely unnecessary. Loving the sensual gratification, more than he loves his God or even health, life, and the welfare of his neighbor, does he not deliberately make the sensual, selfish gratification his ruling love? and must not man's ruling love, when thus deliberately and intelligently formed, govern his destiny to eternity? and will he not, almost necessarily, seek, as his chief delight, corresponding evils in the next life, when his days of probation here are over?

LIQUORS, CIGARS.

G. SIMMONDS,
SOLE PROPRIETOR AND MANUFACTURER OF PURE OHIO
Catawba Brandy.
THIS Brandy has been manufactured for several years from the pure juice of the Catawba Grape, thus affording additional evidence, of the progress of American enterprise and industry, and of our ability to produce articles at home, equal to those made by any other nation.
The Ohio Catawba Brandy, not only equals but excels the best imported Brandies, in purity and flavor. It is for the best Brandy known. Its statement is fully corroborated by the certificates of our most distinguished analytical chemists.
The want of pure brandy has long been felt in this country, and the introduction of an article of such quality as to supersede the sale and use of those vile compounds hitherto sold under the name of Brandy, can only be regarded as a great public good. The Catawba Brandy poses all the good qualities claimed for the best imported liquors, and is of perfect purity and superior flavor, and a sovereign and sure remedy for Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Cramp, Colic, Languor, Low Spirits, General Debility, &c.
NO FAMILY SHOULD BE WITHOUT IT.
RETAIL PRICE $1.25 PER BOTTLE.
Recommended by the physicians and druggists of the United States.
G. Simmonds has appointed J. P. & F. S. Ilsley, 141 East Water st., Sole Agent for State of Wisconsin, where dealers and customers please forward their orders.

WEST WATER STREET, MILWAUKEE.
THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE CITY
TURTON & SERCOMB,
MANUFACTURERS of Steam Engines and Boilers, Flour and Saw Mill Gearing, Brass and Composition work, together with Castings of all descriptions.
Also manufacturers of the celebrated Haviland & Tutt's Patent Centre-Vent Water Wheel. It uses less water, in proportion to the power given, than any other wheel manufactured. It is adapted to either high or low heads of water, runs perfectly steady, and is not affected by ice or back-water, only in the loss of head. In addition to this, it can be set with but little delay, and at no greater expense than ordinary wheels. It has given general satisfaction to all who have used it, and that, together with its durability, having been used in Messrs. Ludington & Co's Mill over seven years, without one dollar expense, gives it a decided superiority over all other wheels. Descriptive circulars forwarded on application.
Mill Stones, Bolting Cloth, Belve Wire, and Mill furnishings, of all descriptions, at the shortest notice.

COMMERCIAL & FINANCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL, }
Thursday Evening, July 29, 1858. }

MONEY MATTERS.—Exchange continues firm at ¼ per cent. premium. Eastern funds begin to make their way out here for investment, and currency is quite plenty.—The banks are "easy," and discounting quite freely to their customers, that is, when the right kind of paper is offered. Business generally is rather quite. Gold is selling at 1¼ per cent., and note brokers rates are without change.

OUR MARKETS.

RECEIVED BY MIL. & MISS. R. R, July 29.—271 bbls. flour, 3,940 bus wheat, 3,483 bus oats, 485 bus corn, 20 bus potatoes, 4,bbl eggs, 4 890 lbs sundries, 1,289 lbs. hides, 1,482 lbs wool, 2,290 hops 1,850 lbs potash.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL to procure Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It has no equal on earth. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

We refer to the valuable preparation in the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful female Physicians in New England, and has been used with never-failing success in millions of cases.

We believe it the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arise from teething or from any other cause.

Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

The life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well-tried remedy.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New-York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Office No. 13 Cedar street, New York.

Sold in Milwaukee by Rockwell & Ross.

NEW FAMILY SEWING MACHINES

Latest Improvement—Watson's Patent.

THE MANUFACTURER and Agent desires to call the attention of the public to this cheap labor saving machine, and now, since the great improvements which have been added to it, recommend it with the utmost confidence, as it has been in operation in this city a sufficient length of time to prove its utility. These machines are made strong and durable, and with one-fourth part of the care required to manage a higher priced machine. They will do as much work, and last as the most expensive. Each machine is thoroughly tested before it is sold, and warranted to give satisfaction, if the instructions are followed with ordinary care and attention, and will be kept in order one year free of charge.

Price of improved machine, complete, (including stand,) $25. Persons wishing to purchase a machine are invited to bring their work with them and test the machine to their entire satisfaction, before purchasing.
